BOSTON, March 8.—Coppers closed fairly steady after being most of the session. Amalgamated was the feature for activity and strength and all of the Lake Superior coppers were active. Interest seems to be growing more and more each day. The copper producers report showed a decrease of three and one half million which is a slight disappointment to most traders who expected about ten millions although it is considered extremely favorable by the producers themselves as the total decline in the world's visible supply of copper during February was 12,441,000 pounds. We look for continued activity and higher prices in the coppers and favor purchases on all slight reactions.
